FIVE CENTS

FUR - COATS.

A word about these is not unseasonable just now. There is no denying the fact that for a cheap and reliable coat the Wombat "takes the cake." This coat is better known as the Australian Bear and while it costs comparatively little there are few coats made that will out wear it. Early this season we secured 50 of them--and not an unprime one among them, which we can and will sell for less than anyone else in Brandon. Come and see them.

Of course there are other Fur Coats--lots of them among which, the most trustworthy are the "Coon" "Bulgarian Lamb." "Bison," "Kangaroo" & "Meshoni."

Later we'll have something to say about these coats--till then watch our big new window, there'll be something there that will interest you if you want to buy a fur coat.

When calling on us ask to be shown that elegant, dressy overcoat of heavy serge, ornamented with frogs and loops and a large rolling storm collar at $1250.

Such mottoes as "Welcome," "We honor the first Manitoban Minister," etc., the workmanship of an artistic painter, Thos. Sharp.

Lipsett, and John Hall, Holland; Jas. Huston, ex-M.P.P., Manitow; W. C. Wood, Balfour; E. J. Wood, ex-M.P. P., Cypress; Capt. Kellar, Turtle Mountain; A. Chisholm, Ottawa; A. E. McDonnell and Dr. Lambert, St. Boniface.

Robert Rogers, Esq., president of the Provincial Conservative Association, acted as chairman. On his right sat the guest, W. B. Scarth, ex-M. P. P., Wm. Whyte, General Manager of the C.P.R., and on his left, A. W. Ross and N. F. Davis, M. P.

After a sumptuous repast was partaken of letters and telegrams of regret at being unable to be present were read from the following:

Lieu. Gov. Schultz; Archbishop Tache; Justice Bain, Judge Arnagh, Senators Sutherland, Loughheed and Bennett, McDowell, M. P., Prince Albert, Hugh J. MacDonald, M. P., Winnipeg, Mr. Reid, Regina, G. W. Vandersee of the Northern Pacific, D. H. Dunsford, Morden, Mr. Gordon, on behalf of the Conservatives of Mountain, E. L. MacDonald and others.

The chairman but expressed the feeling of the public in expressing his congratulations to Mr. Daly on his recent advancement, to that high office of vital interest to all Manitobans. The assembly present made up of representative men from all corners of the country but did themselves honor also in gracing the occasion with their presence. He introduced the Royal toast by calling on Mr. Atcherly for Rule Britannia, and Dr. McInnis for The Maple Leaf Forever. Mr. Irwin, who sang The Red, White and Blue, and Major Cater and Capt. Clark also responded for "The Army and the Navy."

He devoted on Mr. Kirchhoff to introduce "our guest" and he did it in his usual cheerful manner.

Mr. Daly was received with loud and prolonged cheering. He began by declaring his inability to find words to express the pleasure it gave him to experience his surroundings that evening. He had in the past received nothing but favors and kindness in the past; but the ovation tendered him in that occasion left him without language to properly express his feelings. In the past he had filled most of the municipal offices of the west. Mayor of the City, Chairman of the Western Judicial Board, parliament, a representative, receiving thanks from his constituents for his discharge of duty; and the ovation tendered on that occasion was an evidence the people, irrespective of politics, were willing to trust him with greater responsibilities. This called for expressions of thanks from him, in which language could not properly define his feelings. He came to Brandon when it was here but in name only, with the advent of the C.P.R. The friends who had preceded him by a few months, as well as those who followed, had to endure the disadvantages of pioneering; but the labors of time had brought their own reward. It was impossible to forestall 11 years ago, and almost vain to expect that the progress of the City and the country surrounding, would be what it was. Though all at the time were full of hope and anticipation mingled with more or less doubt, the growth and development had surpassed the measure of their expectations. The city was now a place of prosperity and progress on every hand, and the country around one vast area of cultivated fields showing the march of agricultural prosperity. The honors that rest upon him now he attributed to the circumstance that his efforts in the past had met with more than general approval. He fully appreciated the efforts that had been put forth in the past in his interest to retain him in a representative capacity, by friends from all portions of the constituency, many of whom he saw present to do him honor on that occasion. In his late promotion he had been honored, so had his constituency been the province and the whole Northwest. He fully appreciated the great responsibilities of the task he had undertaken; but would to the full limit of his judgment and ability endeavor to discharge them, faithfully and well. He resented very much that his responsibilities would compel him to sever his connection with present associations in the city and its surroundings. While residing in Ottawa, however, he would ever bear these associations in mind with feelings of extreme pleasure.

Since his promotion he had received letters and telegrams of congratulation from all parts of the country, but this demonstration had given him, emanating as it did from his own constituents and close personal friends more satisfaction than all the assembly being made up of old time political opponents as well as his warmest political friends. Under such surroundings a member of parliament might be free to express himself on all public questions those unconsidered as well as those considered by his political party, but with him it was difficult--as a Minister he found himself circumscribed, and should be circumspect. He had seen in the press of his opponents that he would on nomination, before it and after it be bound to express himself and define his position on the School question and other issues of present importance; but so far he had met none of these opponents present with their interrogations. As to the School question, however, all he could say was that it was submitted to a committee of the executive, of whom he was one, and sitting as a Judge he was not free to express himself until the proper time arrived, and that would be on the floor of the House when the first Minister would break the silence and announce the policy of the government.

The Government had a large majority in the House, exercising the confidence of the country in their management of affairs; and he was confident their action on this particular question also, would give general satisfaction also. The question on Schools was one of greater importance to the public than all others, and should not be viewed from any religious or other prejudiced standpoint, but from that of the welfare of Canada as a whole. He would give, however, while referring to the subject, the opinion of others of rank on this question, Quoting Lord Carnarvon as follows: "Lastly, in the thirty-third clause, which contains the exceptional provisions to which I referred, your Lordships will observe some rather complicated arrangements in reference to education. I need hardly say that the great question gives rise to nearly as much earnestness and division of opinion on that as on this side of the Atlantic. This clause has been framed after long and anxious controversy, in which all parties have been represented, and on conditions to which all have given their consent. It is an understanding which, as it only concerns the local interests affected, is not one that parliament would be willing to disturb, even if in the opinion of parliament it was susceptible of amendment; and I am bound to add, as the expression of my own opinion, that the terms of the agreement appear to me to be equitable and judicious. For the object of the clause is to secure the religious minority of one province the same rights, privileges and protection which the religious minority of another province may enjoy."

He quoted the Hon. Mowat in Ontario as follows:

"In what spirit was the new constitution framed? It was a compromise all round, and an essential part of that compromise--so essential that without it Confederation could never have taken place--was the provision by which the separate schools of Ontario, and the Protestant dissenting schools of Quebec, were guaranteed by Imperial enactment. But for this being guaranteed, we should have had no Dominion Parliament with its present limited powers, and no provincial legislatures with their powers."

He was advised by friends and others that in consequence of his having charge of immigration matters we should have a more vigorous immigration policy. When they would go to England or any of the older countries for emigrants, the people would ask, as they expected would be the case, if they would have the same rights here they had in the countries they were leaving. We wanted the people of the Canadian Northwest, as well as the immigrants we would yet receive, to be a united whole a homogeneous community, willing to encourage still further immigration regardless of religious opinions or convictions. When they would join with us on our natural and other days of celebration, they should be encouraged to feel our flag was one of freedom and liberty to all classes and creeds, an assurance of a contented and happy people, worshipping their maker in the way they thought proper.

AFTER MANY DAYS.

Honorable, Man., Feb. 14, '90.
W. H. CONSUMPTION, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR:—For 12 years my wife was a martyr to that dread disease, Dyspepsia. Nothing relieved her; physicians were consulted and medical skill tried, without avail. One doctor advised a change of climate, suggesting Manitoba as a desirable place. We acted upon this advice, coming here two years ago. The change of climate wrought a change indeed, but for the worse, as she was soon confined to bed, and under the care of two doctors, who asserted she could live but a month longer. A neighbor came to see her one day who had been reading your Almanac. She told her of the testimonials she read in it, of the great amount of good they were doing, and advised her to try a box of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. She did so, was relieved, kept improving, and is now able to do housework, and continues the use of Morse's Pills.
Yours gratefully,
Geo. Dunn.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Another question has developed in the Deacon case. As soon as the tribunal of the Seine delivered its decision dismissing Mrs. Deacon's case for divorce and ordering that the child be taken in a receipt by Deacon's father to Mr. Deacon. Mrs. Deacon hastened secretly to the convent of our Lady of the Assumption in the department of Marne, bent upon carrying off the child, and thus both defying the authority of the French court, and baffling Mr. Deacon. The sympathy of the friends of the cause and the people of the neighborhood has been with Mrs. Deacon. When Mrs. Deacon arrived the news of the court's decision was unknown at the convent and she was admitted as usual. Mrs. Deacon had a carriage at the gate; she asked and received leave to take the child of the children to ride and after kissing the younger one tenderly, she walked with the former to the carriage. At last she drove steadily but increased her speed as the convent and adjoining group of houses disappeared from view.

Deacon drove up to the convent shortly after his wife had gone. He was shocked and mortified when he learned the situation. Deacon at once applied to the police, who readily joined him in attempting to overtake her. It seems impossible that she can escape from France as police everywhere have been warned to be on the lookout and to arrest her and the child wherever found. Deacon is determined to get possession of the child.

London, Nov. 4.—The worst fears of the friends of the important Canadian cattle trade have been realized and Canadian cattle have been scheduled. In other words, the privilege allowed to Canadian cattle of being separated to land and to graze on British pastures has been cancelled and in future Canadian cattle immediately on arrival will be slaughtered in the lairs at the seaports, as all the cattle imported into Britain from the United States and other countries.

The prohibition of Canadian cattle in consequence of the pleuro-pneumonia scare will become operative on November 21st.

CANADIAN NEWS.

Brandon, Nov. 4.—At the assizes here yesterday the jury in the case of Mrs. Quick, wife of Joseph Quick, formerly foreman in Karm's organ factory at Woodstock, against Mrs. Agnes Church, widow, claiming $5,000 for alleged alienation of her husband's affections, returned a verdict for $2,500 for alienation of these affections and $2,000 for failure to support. The case is the first of the kind ever tried in Canada.

J. A. Fullerton, who is superintendent of C. P. R. steamers at Vancouver, is in the city returning from a trip to Montreal and New York. He has been in politics before. The only important plank in the company is making active preparations for the coming World's Fair. Two new steamships will be put on the China and Japan route, which with the three "Empresses" will make a total of five boats, which is expected to successfully cope with the competition for $2,500 for alienation of these affections and $2,000 for failure to support.

THE MERCIER TRIAL, HE GOES FREE.

Quebec, Nov. 4.—On opening the criminal court this morning Judge Wurtel gave his decision on the application of Mr. Fitzpatrick, one of the counsel for the defence, that the cases of Mercer and Pacard be not given to the jury but that they be dismissed. His honor said: "There is no doubt that the crown minister is not amenable to the courts for action, but in the case of a minister accused of defrauding the treasury by means and means outside his ministry, it is different. It remains to the jury to decide on such a question."

When the Judge finished his charge, the court became tumultuous. The jury retired at a quarter to six and in ten minutes returned with a verdict of not guilty.

Upon the announcement of the verdict Mercer's friends crowded around him, showering congratulations upon him, while thousands outside the court house took up the cry and rent the air with cheers. The ex-prime minister was lifted on the shoulders of four of his stalwart compatriots and a procession formed and marched to the residence of F. X. Levesque, where Mercer made a speech.

A FAMILY FRIEND.

Sirs—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in family for years and can highly recommend it for summer complaints, diarrhoea, cramps, etc. Mrs. George West, Huntsfield Ont.

New York, Nov. 4.—Jim Corbett, the champion pugilist, arrived in the city last night. He denies the report that he had promised to fight Charley Mitchell in New Orleans in February, but added that he was anxious to make a match with the Englishman at once. The fight to occur in September before the club offering the hoped-for purse and $10,000 a side. He hoped Mitchell would soon show his hand and put up a forfeit with a reliable newspaper. Corbett said that in the event of Mitchell flunking he would fight Peter Jackson at the time mentioned and under the same conditions. Judge Newton, the match-maker of the Coney Island Athletic club, who was one of the party that met Corbett and offered a purse of $3,000 for Corbett and Mitchell to contend for at the club's arena. Corbett replied that he would accept in the event of a larger offer not being forthcoming.

Judge Newton told a reporter of the United Press that he was authorized by the club to offer a purse of $3,000 for a match between Bill and Fitzsimmons. This amount is $10,000 better than the offer of Mr. Noel of New Orleans. Mr. Noel was surprised when he heard of this and asked for 24 hours to think it over. Sporting men think he has reached his limit, and that the big fight, should they occur, will take place at the Coney Island club.

Jack McAuliffe told a World reporter last night that he had signed with the Crescent City Athletic club to fight Burke, the English lightweight champion, at 138 pounds for a purse of $15,000. Burke is expected to arrive here in a few weeks, and it is said he is also signed to fight at New Orleans.

ONBOW.

This rising little town on the Souris branch, is beautifully situated on the high rolling prairie, overlooking the valleys of the Souris river and Moose Jas creek. The farming land in the immediate neighborhood is excellent, and the farmers in a very prosperous condition. The town is only eight or nine months old and has already quite a business look. Amongst the business places and new residences going up are the following: E. Pierce's hotel, 42,000, 2 stories. Thompson's proprietor, cost $3,000. A. W. Robson has added a store to his store and built an addition of 15 ft. E. Pierce, store 28x30, cost $1,200. Mr. Roger, store cost $1,200. Massey Harris warehouse. W. A. Greer new residence, cost $1,300.

THE WALLACE ELECTION.

LENOXVILLE, ONT., Nov. 3.—This election in this district attracts only a small amount of attention as neither of the candidates has been in politics before. The only important plank in the canvass is separate vs. union schools. Both candidates claim to be in favor of the union system. Many will be interested in reading in the address of one of the candidates that he disapproves of what he terms the "mad-slipping of the previous canvass." In justice to the late representative, now deceased, and his friends, and from a personal knowledge of his views on the subject, your correspondent is prepared to state that no one detested or condemned "mad-slipping" more strongly than he and so thoroughly disgusted was he with it that he told your correspondent the day after the election "that he never would go through another canvass as there was too much dirt to wade through."

Representation of Eastern Assiniboia.

Major Bell, of Indian Head, is a candidate for the House of Commons, for the seat vacated by Hon. Mr. Dewdney. Mr. Hawke, of Whitehead, is also prepared to allow his name to go before the convention. Mr. J. R. Neff, of Moose Jaw, has had numerous requests for his name to go before the convention but has positively declined.

Alameda.

This town is situated on the Souris branch, about seven miles west of Brandon. On leaving the latter place you cross the Moose Jaw creek bridge, 1,355 feet long and 82 high, in the centre, the second largest bridge on the Canadian Pacific system.

Alameda is a very rising place, situated in a thriving farming country having an advantage over Oxbow, in its supply of water. The following new buildings have been built since the arrival of the railway:

C. Hollingquist, store cost $2,500; J. M. Fellbrook, saddler. Walsh Bros. general store cost $1,200. Hopper Bros., livery, Pepper, livery. Alameda hotel, cost $2,000. Colwell's boarding house. J. J. Headlip, lumber. Turritt & Atkinson, lumber. Mr. Knowling, M.P., lumber. Miss Jennie Dawson, boarding house.

Miss Dawson's house is a very comfortable one and appears to be well patronized. Mr. Hollingquist has for manager Mr. Miles McKay, well known in Brandon.

The smoker who has not yet tried the "Mystic Navy" tobacco has a new pleasure before him in the use of "the weed." An investment of twenty-five cents will furnish him with the means of giving it a fair test. Let us advise him to make the experiment, he will find the tobacco to all that its thousands of friends claim for it, and they are far from stingy in their praise.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

There is much speculation in town and country, as to the real meaning of Mr. Daly's at the banquet the other night, as regards this burning question, his opponents declaring they can "read something between the lines." As for our part, we are prepared to await developments. Mr. Daly said when the Government's policy was announced, it would give satisfaction, and we are prepared to accept that as ample assurance, no injury will be done any interest in the country, until we have proof to the contrary. We cannot, however, refrain from saying it is a matter for regret that the Federal Government ever touched the question, one way or the other. It would have been much better for them had they told petitioners the courts were there to settle all such questions, and it should remain with them. The Privy Council has decided that by the Greenway Act no injustice has been done the minority, and that being the case, we know of no grievance the Federal Government has the right or power to consider.

Neither can we agree with the remarks of Mr. W. A. Macdonald, to the effect that the question is a dead one, so far as the Provincial Legislature is concerned, and is regulated to the Federal House. This legislation began in the Local House and while there is a feature of the question to be threshed out it should be threshed out there. There is no doubt that the Catholics have grievances as the matter stands; but they must be settled in the Local House. The Privy Council has decided that the Manitoba Legislature has the power to secularize the schools, and they must be secularized—all forms of religious teaching and all text books of a religious cast, must be expunged before every minority can say they are free from grievances.

Again the Catholics are fully entitled to any school properties they bought under the late Act, and paid for out of their own taxation; but it is the Local and not the Federal House that should see that justice is done them, in these respects.

THE U. S. ELECTIONS.

The result of the United States' elections, so far as heard from, appear to have completely turned the tables on the Republican party. The democrats having the majority in twenty-two states, the Republicans in 7. New York state was carried by the Democrats and most of the Southern ones. California and Ohio were amongst those that voted for the Republican ticket.

The Great Strike.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—As the lockout in the cotton trade began at the usual mid-day hour Saturday the exact number affected was only known to-day. Mr. Mawdsley, secretary of the amalgamated Association of Operative Cotton Spinners, thinks 153,000 persons will be rendered idle by the lockout or strike, the trouble partaking of both features. His estimate, however, may be modified, should a stampede among the employees spread. The federation of master cotton spinners has never been very successful in lockout and the present trouble promises to be no exception, since the masters issued a notice that the spinners would have to submit to a 5 per cent. reduction in wages. There has been considerable improvement in the cotton trade and manufacturers are both to shut their mills and forego the profits in sight. Should the manufacturers spinning American cotton offer the employees the old rate of wages, it is highly probable that about 15,000,000 spindles would continue to run, and the number of idle spinners and others would be reduced to 50,000. At any rate for a season it is a pretty certainty.

Ancient Order of Foresters.

A new court was opened in the city on Saturday night last, of this ancient order, with 64 charter members and 20 visiting brethren from Winnipeg, representing five courts, Bro. Stephen, Esq., presiding. A sumptuous supper, followed by a most interesting and enjoyable evening passed until near midnight. The officers elected were Robert Crawford, Chief Ranger; T. Chambers, P.C.; R. A. Arthur, Sub C.R.; Mr. Cook Treas. and Mr. Donovan Sec. Mr. Cope who was present spoke, he said he was glad to see such an assembly and regretted that his name was not on the charter, he believed in these societies and it showed that the public also appreciated them by the number present. He hoped he would soon be one of them. The next meeting will be on Thursday next, 10th inst., when 12 others are to be initiated. They now number 76, and there are 10 more who belong to courts in the east, who in-
